ROBBERY BY CONVICTS IS NEW CHARGE

Graft in Sale of Furniture Also Alleged by Witness

Chicago, May 13—(AP)—State's Attorney Crowe has been told by a recently released convict that eight convicts left the honor farm of Stateville Penitentiary in state-owned automobile on a night 18 months ago, robbed the First National Bank of Lockport of $18,000, and returned with their loot to their honor farm refuge. Mr. Crowe announced that he would take the witness, whose name he declined to disclose, before the special grand jury when it takes up the pardon and parole investigation next week.

When A. P. Bailey, cashier of the looted Lockport bank and one of the officials terrorized by the robbers, was informed of the story he, said the convict's recital appeared within range of possibility.

Conference Tonight

All evidence in the crime and Stateville prison break investigation in the hands of prosecutors in Chicago and Joliet will be assembled at a conference here tonight attended by Attorney General Carlstrom, State's Attorney Crowe and State's Attorney John of Joliet. The party was called, the prosecutors have said, to lay ground work for a sweeping investigation of all phases of the crime situation.

FUNERAL VICTIM ST. LOUIS FALL SATURDAY AT 2

J. S. LeFevere's Death Result of Fall of 140 Feet

The funeral of J. S. LeFevere, son of Mr. and Mrs. George LeFevere of Palmyra, who was killed in a fall while doing construction work at Florissant, Mo., a suburb of St. Louis, Wednesday morning, was as mentioned last evening's Telegraph, will be held at the parents' home on rural route 7 at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon and at the Prairieville church at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. E. C. Harris pastor of St. John's Lutheran church of Sterling will officiate, and burial will be at Riverside cemetery, Sterling.

Associated Press reports to The Tiegraph are to the effect that the young man, whose obituary will be published later, was instantly killed when a derrick cable broke and a load of steel, on which he was riding, fell 140 feet to the ground. The unfortunate victim of the tragedy was employed by the Chicago Bridge & Iron Works as a structural steel worker at the time of his fatal accident.

The Attorney General answered the query of State's Attorney Alford H. House of McHenry county. The McHenry county board of supervisors voted to license dance halls but added the requirement that they shall not be operated on Sunday.

Meanwhile Premier Baldwin announced that the House of Commons would debate the strike situation at 6:30 o'clock this evening. The opinion was expressed in the lobby of the House that this meeting was the outcome of a formal demand from the Laborites after a meeting of the parliamentary labor party.

Thus the battle, which the country last night thought had been settled, continues.

Instead of the resumption of normal conditions, an announcement came from the government that the emergency food services would be maintained.

"The county board," Attorney General Carlstrom said, "is without power or authority to add to the regulations of the dance hall bill and the Sunday closing regulation is therefore void. Of course the provisions of the Criminal Code with reference to disturbance of the peace, may be invoked in case of complaint."

An official of the Railway Union today asserted that, in view of the difficulties surrounding the reinstatement of strikers, the executives of three of the railway unions have called upon all railmen to continue the strike until they received satisfactory assurances from their employers.

"Common Sense" Wins.

Now that the general strike has ended what Premier Baldwin described in the House of Commons as "a victory of common sense of the best part of the Kingdom," the next step is to set about for a settlement of the mining trouble.

The coal mine strike was not affected by yesterday's events and remained as it was before the general strike was called—with the miners and the mine owners deadlocked over the question of wages and with the miners having left the pits. It is assumed that the government will resume the efforts it was making to harmonize the differences between the mine owners and the miners when the general strike was called.

Daughter of Dixon Man Died Yesterday in Freeport Hospital

Miss Frances G. Hutton, daughter of Matt G. Hutton of this city, passed away Tuesday in a Freeport hospital, where she recently underwent an operation for appendicitis. She was 24 years old. Her father, Matt Hutton, has been employed as a salesman in this district by the Cudahy Packing company for a number of years.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Kuehner funeral parlors at Freeport at 9 o'clock Friday morning followed by services at St. Mary's Catholic church, with interment in a Freeport cemetery.

Suffocation Caused Death of a Farmer

Death resulting from suffocation was the verdict returned by a coroner's jury investigating the death of Al Mammoser, residing five miles northwest of Pearl City, Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Mammoser was killed when he was run over by a tractor while plowing in a field on his farm. The testimony tended to show that the victim in some manner slipped off the seat of the tractor, falling beneath the large wheels, face downward, his face and the upper portion of his body being pressed down into the loose dirt on one of the furrows, thus shutting off his breathing. The verdict was based upon the opinion of Dr. J. G. Woker, of Pearl City, who was summoned immediately following the fatality.

DIXON WOMAN AWARDED $15 IN SUIT FOR $2000 ASKED AGAINST POLO FOR MISHAP

Jury Allows Miss Esther Barton Small Sum in Oregon

Oregon—A case was heard in the Circuit Court Monday and Tuesday in which Miss Esther M. Barton of Dixon brought suit in the sum of $2000 against the City of Polo, the action being the outgrowth of an automobile accident on October 16, 1925 when a car in which Miss Barton was riding collided with a concrete traffic post at the intersection of Mason and Division streets in Polo.

According to the testimony given, Miss Barton, in company with John E. Orthiesen, of Dixon, were driving in a Ford coupe from Dixon to Freeport over State Route 26 and reached Polo in the early evening. Rain and snow were falling, and in coming to the intersection of the two streets they were unable to see the traffic post, and their car collided with it, with the result that Miss Barton suffered injuries to her head and face.

Testimony was introduced to show that the red light which was stationed on the post was not lighted, and the only light on the post was a white light.

The City of Polo was represented by City Attorney R. M. Brand and J. C. Seyster of Oregon, while R. L. Bracken of Polo and Dixon & Dixon of Oregon appeared for the complainant. The case went to the jury in the middle of the afternoon on Tuesday and a verdict of $15.00 was returned against the City after a short deliberation.

"Common Sense" Wins.

Now that the general strike has ended what Premier Baldwin described in the House of Commons as "a victory of common sense of the best part of the Kingdom," the next step is to set about for a settlement of the mining trouble.

The coal mine strike was not affected by yesterday's events and remained as it was before the general strike was called—with the miners and the mine owners deadlocked over the question of wages and with the miners having left the pits. It is assumed that the government will resume the efforts it was making to harmonize the differences between the mine owners and the miners when the general strike was called.

FEDERAL AID.

Illinois was second among the states in the number of corporations that filed income tax returns for 1924, the number having been 26,406. Total tax was $82,397,233.

Illinois, New York and Pennsylvania rank at the top in revenue collected by the government. They pay half of income taxes, both individual and corporation levies.

That is where these commonwealths are given the worst of the federal aid legislation. These three states are compelled to contribute half of the money that goes into federal aid funds for other states, and in addition they have to raise another dollar or proportionate sum for every dollar that comes back to them of their own contributions. How much cheaper it would be for these states to finance themselves through their state governments.

Not only do these three states contribute half of this revenue that is distributed among forty-eight states, but when it comes back, it has a string to it. When we receive the federal aid that we have so abundantly furnished, it is with the specification that we must have our state legislatures pass certain laws according to dictation of congress.

How much better it would be for Illinois to spend her money without dictation from Washington and to let other states finance themselves on these matters that are purely issues for states to determine. Large states must contribute their proportionate shares of revenues for maintenance of the government without consideration of local benefits, but federal aid to states is now being looked upon as a manner of bribing state legislatures to pass laws in accordance with dictation from Washington. The money of New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Ohio is offered to Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma and others of half of the states of the Union if they will pass laws the letter of which is arranged in Washington, perhaps by lobbyists.

President Coolidge has done a service of great value to the nation in frowning upon the federal aid system. Federal aid as a form of dictation of legislation among the states was traveling with tremendous speed when Governor Lowden of Illinois undertook to raise a barrier. He slackeneded the speed. When President Coolidge entered the white house he was in position to use his office effectively on the issue raised by Lowden on the public platform. The president had been a governor as Lowden had, and he knew just how much the government at Washington was encroaching upon the governments of the state. He has given a forceful jerk at the halter, not only restraining federal aid, but slackening the centralization in Washington of powers that belong to the states.

RAILROADS AND HIGHWAYS.

Appearing before the roads committee of the house of representatives, F. R. White, engineer of the Iowa highway commission, contended that railroads are not injured by hard roads.

The engineer offered statistics of the interstate commerce commission to show reasons for abandonment of 2438 miles of railroad from 1920 to 1925.

Exhaustion of natural resources were responsible for the abandonment of 1411 miles, or 57 percent; the competition of other railroads for the abandonment of 713 miles, or 29 percent; competition of motor vehicles for 104 miles, or 4.3 percent; rearrangement of lines of travel, 32 miles, and miscellaneous, 177 miles.

Local distribution of commodities, he said, constituted the bulk of motor transportation. Next in importance was the extension of freight service to areas without rail service, and the providing of substitutes for rail service on unprofitable branch lines. Long haul of special commodities, he said, was the smallest part of the motor truck movement.

The figures submitted pertain to general prosperity of the railroads, and more particularly to the freight business. Of course the railroads in bringing about a readjustment were compelled to recognize that the passenger business had been interfered with greatly by the automobile as a private means of conveyance. Railroads were able to economize by withdrawing many passenger trains from service, thus meeting the new conditions.

MRS. S. W. BOLGER,
FORMER DIXONITE,
DIED MAY FIFTH

Death Came to Her at Her Home in Minneapolis, Minnesota

The following from a Brainerd, Minn. paper, concerning the death of Mrs. Susan Bolger, a former resident of Dixon, will be of interest to many of the older residents of the community who will remember her and mourn her passing.

Mrs. Susan Whitford Bolger, a resident of Brainerd for over 30 years and of Minneapolis for the past six years passed away at her home in Minneapolis on May 5, after an illness of five months.

Previous to her illness, Mrs. Susan Whitford Bolger had returned from Chicago, where her brother, Edward L. Wheat was fatally injured as a result of a railroad accident which occurred December 24, 1925. She was born in Dixon, Ill., April 21, 1862.

Surviving are her husband, John Bolger, 2731 Stevens avenue, Minneapolis; two daughters, Mrs. Charles E. Moore, Brainerd, Mrs. Floyd N. Warner of Minneapolis, two sons, Daniel B. Whitford, of Sioux Falls, S. D., and George E. Whitford, of Lappan, N. D., and a brother, James E. Wheat, of Belvidere, Ill.

Mrs. Bolger was a member of the Simpson M. E. church, Minneapolis, also of the Roller Chapter Order of the Eastern Star, Order of the American, Mistletoe Court No. 1 Star of the North, Rebecca Lodge No. 5, Ladies of the G. A. R., United Order of Foresters and the Modern Brotherhood of America.

NO SOLUTION OF HAYSTACK DEATH MYSTERY IN IOWA

Officials Completely at Sea in Efforts to Solve Murder

Des Moines, Iowa, May 13—(AP)—The death of a young woman in a straw stack fire at Carroll, Iowa, last August, is as much a mystery today as the day following the finding of her charred body. Fred Thompson, Kansas City truck driver, arrested after Mrs. Maggie Harman, Omaha had identified the torso of the straw-stack fire victim as that of Mrs. Thompson, who is her granddaughter, was released yesterday.

Kansas City police advised Iowa authorities that Mrs. Thompson had appeared in that city and the local officials appeared convinced that the Mrs. Thompson who put in her appearance there was the same woman who Mrs. Harman said was the murder victim.

Inasmuch as the sheriffs of Polk and Warren counties have decided their investigation into the probable connection of Thompson with the crime is finished, nothing further of an official nature is expected in the case that has baffled state and county forces since the charred body was found.

In spite of Mrs. Harman's identification, the body, still unclaimed, lies in a local undertaking establishment and the motive for the killing or clues to the crime are as far from the official grasp as before.

To Co-ordinate Work of Juries Probing Gangs

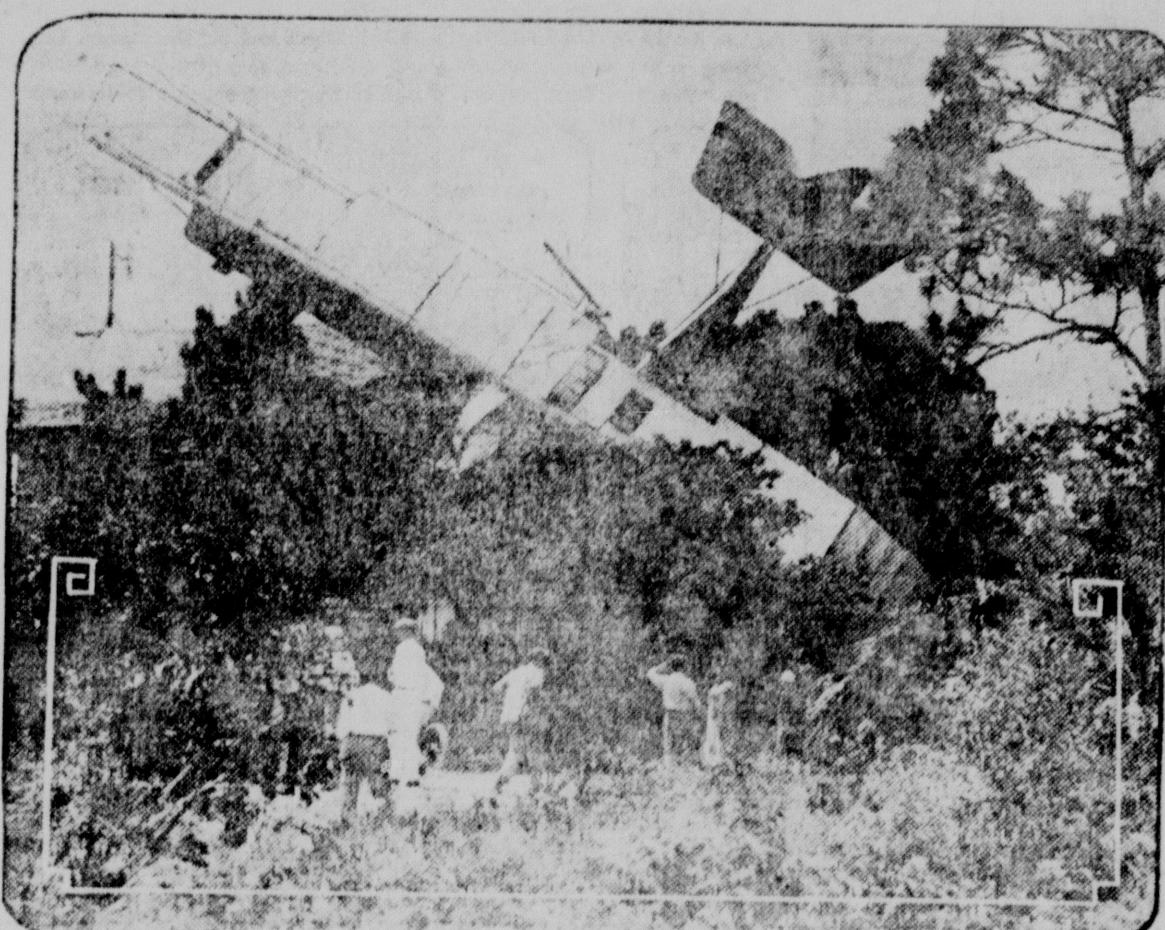

Chicago, May 12—(AP)—Evidence dealing with state pardons and paroles obtained in the special crime investigation here and in the Stateville Prison inquiry at Joliet, will be co-ordinated at a conference of prosecutors here tomorrow.

In announcing the conference, Oscar Carlstrom, state Attorney General, who is aiding State's Attorney Crowe here, declared "we intend to dig to the very bottom of the pardon and parole scandal and clean it up."

The conference will be attended by Carlstrom, Crowe and State's Attorney Rehm of Joliet who is in charge of the grand jury investigating the murder of Deputy Warden Klein by seven escaping convicts last week. Rehm previously had announced his inquiry would deal only with the murder, the escape and related prison conditions, but he stated a willingness to turn over to State's Attorney Crowe any information he obtained on an alleged pardon mill believed disclosed here.

Further Evidence Loss III. Farmers Sustained

Urbana, Ill., May 13—(AP)—Further evidence of the slump which farm profits in the corn selling sections of central and east central Illinois took last year, is to be found in the annual farm business report which the farm organization and management department of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois has just prepared for Ford county on the basis of careful farm accounts kept by 31 farmers.

After these farmers had paid expenses, they had nothing left to show for their labor and management and in addition lacked an average of $1,011 of having enough earnings to pay 5 per cent interest on their average capital investment of $253 an acre in land, buildings, livestock, equipment and crops, the report shows.

The third of the 31 Ford county farmers who last year made the best profits had an average of $865 to pay them for their labor, risk and management after they had met expenses and allowed 5 per cent interest on their average capital investment, but the least successful third of the 31 farmers lacked an average of $2,519 of having enough income to pay 5 per cent on their average capital investment of $261 an acre, even when nothing was allowed for labor and management.

SUPPORTERS OF HAUGEN BILL IN COMPROMISE MOOD

Hope to Save Measure by Agreeing to It Being Amended

Washington, May 13—(AP)—Entering another round of the farm relief fight, advocates of the Haugen price stabilization bill today were hopeful that the battery of amendments agreed upon yesterday would bring them victory. Opponents of the plan, however, conceded no loss of strength.

Resumption of reading of the measure for consideration of amendments, suspended yesterday to permit action on other bills, offered the Haugen plan supporters their opportunity to introduce the compromise proposals which they regarded as showing ground for the charge of opponents that it would amount to a subsidy for agriculture.

Worked out after numerous conferences and approved by Frank W. Murphy, George N. Peck and other farm organization delegates from the corn belt, the amendments reduce the proposed appropriation from $375,000,000 to $175,000,000 and apply the equalization fee to wheat, corn, cattle, hogs and butter immediately, instead of two years after enactment. Cotton, allotted $75,000,000 of the price stabilization fund, would be exempt from the fee but subject to a "service charge" not exceeding $2 a bale.

Chairman Haugen of the agriculture committee, sponsor of the bill, said no other important changes will be accepted.

Change in Dividend of Power Company Proposed

New York, May 13—(AP)—Stockholders of Illinois Power & Light Company will vote at a special meeting July 14 on a proposed change in the dividend rate on the unissued 7,000 shares of preferred stock from 7 percent to 6 percent, the new issue having the same rights, preference and restrictions as the present stock.

"SEA FLEA" OFF ON HOP FRANCE TO BARCELONA

Novel Craft Expected to "Jump" Its Way Across Ocean

Marseille, France, Mar. 13—(AP)—M. De Gasenzo, French aviator, accompanied by a mechanic left at 9 o'clock this morning in his water glider, the "Sea Flea" for Barcelona.

The weather was unfavorable but the apparatus worked satisfactorily. If the voyage is successful they will continue to Dakar west Africa and then across the Atlantic to Buenos Aires.

The Sea Flea darts over the water like a flying fish making a speed of about 60 miles an hour. Its hull has a draft of only three inches. At top speed the wing spread is sufficient to keep it clear of the water for about 65 feet and thus it skims along alternately in the air and touching the water. It has two rudders, one for guiding it through the air and the other through the water.

Watch Your Thin,
Weak Child Grow
Strong Take on Weight

In just a few days—quicker than you ever dreamed of—these wonderful flesh making tablets called McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets will start to help any weak, thin, under-nourished little one.

After sickness and where rickets are suspected they are especially valuable. No need to give them any more nasty Cod Liver Oil—these tablets are made to take the place of that good but evil smelling, stomach upsetting medicine and they surely do it. They do put on flesh.

Ask Rowland's Pharmacy, Dixon and Rochelle, or any druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—as easy to take as candy and not at all expensive—60 tablets 60 cents.

Be sure and get McCoy's, the original and genuine, and give the child a chance for 30 days. If you aren't delighted with results just get your money back.—Adv.

SEEK TO AVOID BLOODSHED IN POLISH REVOLT

Marshal Pilsudski Reported in Control of the Capital

BULLETIN
London, May 13—(AP)—Advises from the Warsaw branch of the Overseas Bank says comparative calm reigned in the Polish capital today after numerous street fights which consisted chiefly of battles between the opposing political parties. No details are given regarding the casualties.

BULLETIN
Paris, May 13—(AP)—The Temps reports that Marshal Pilsudski was in control of Warsaw at 8 o'clock last night. President Wojciechowski and the members of the government retiring to the Belvedere Palace. Both sides are negotiating in order to avoid bloodshed. The city was calm during the night.

Paris, May 13—(AP)—The veil of mystery hung over the situation in Poland this morning. Behind it momentous events were believed to be in progress, centering about the famous figure of former President Pilsudski, who is at the head of a revolt which has made it necessary for the government to take precautionary measures to defend the city of Warsaw. Berlin reports that many persons have been killed or wounded in street fighting in Warsaw.

Advices from the Polish capital say that machine guns have been placed on top of government buildings and that loyal troops are guarding the bridges and lines of communication.

Whether Marshal Pilsudsky is leading the revolt to install himself as dictator or merely is injecting a military operation into the political situation to bring the Left parties back into office is not yet clear. Beyond a statement sent out by the official Polish agency which claims that the government is master of the situation, no direct news has been received from Warsaw, either owing to the usual habit in Poland of putting on a censor when grave events are in progress or because one or the other of the contending parties has cut the wires and put the radio out of commission.

Such news as has been received in Paris has come mostly by way of Berlin and consequently it is believed to be subject to caution. According to the version of the situation current in the German capital, Marshal Pilsudski at the head of a considerable force has virtually driven the Polish government to bay and is dictating terms to the president.

Gypsy King and "Crown Prince"

Another version coming by way of Prague, tends rather to bear out the Polish official statement which represents Marshal Pilsudski as being at the head of a small force and as having been "checked" by government troops.

Pilsudski has been in opposition to the government ever since the ministry of Premier Witos in 1923 eliminated him from the army and it is regarded here as likely that the return of Witos to power in succession to Premier Skrynski, with the government made up of adherents of the center and right parties, goaded Pilsudski into trying to carry out a military coup.

It is said that such a movement army, but his government fell before the decree was promulgated.

The appointment of Malczewski, one of Pilsudski's first principal opponents as minister of war is also thought to have added to the Marshal's resentment.

Illinois Peach Crop Will Establish Record

Carbondale, Ill., May 13—(AP)—Steps which Illinois peach growers can take to produce high quality fruit and thereby get the highest net profit possible for what now promises to be the largest peach crop that has ever been produced in the state were discussed here today by authorities from the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois in a school held for county farm advisers and members of county horticultural committees in this section of the state. Thinning and cultivation of peaches, the control of peach diseases and the harvesting and marketing of peaches were discussed in turn by R. S. Marsh, horticulture extension specialist; H. W. Anderson, associate chief of pomological pathology, and J. Boyd, chief of olericulture. A similar meeting will be held at Centralia tomorrow.

Pruning has not been heavy enough in many peach orchards of the state this year and thinning therefore will be essential in the production of quality peaches, Marsh pointed out.

According to Marsh, the time to thin fruit is during the latter part of the "June drop."

ANNUAL MEETING
OGLE CO. FARM
BUREAU JUNE 3

All Way Session to be Held at Coliseum in Oregon
That Day

Oregon—Thursday, June 3, will be the date of the Annual Meeting of Ogle County Farm Bureau according to the decision of the executive board at their last session. It is thought that this date will be late enough to avoid a conflict with corn planting and there will be no urgent farm work to keep the farmers of the county from attending.

The meeting will be held at the Coliseum at Oregon, the business meeting beginning at 10 o'clock and the afternoon being given over to the address of the day. A. C. Everingham of Hutsonville, Illinois, has been asked to make the address. He was chosen by the committee because he is a lecturer very highly thought of by Illinois farm audiences. The Ogle County folks having been disappointed by not hearing him last year will be anxious to hear him this time.

At the time of the business meeting the ladies will hold a separate session which will be addressed by Mrs. W. W. Ramsey of Chicago, a speaker who has proven herself very capable in Institute work.

Dinner will be served at noon and all members of the Farm Bureau and their ladies will be extended a cordial invitation to join in a pleasant and profitable meeting. Reports of the past year's activities will be given and advance steps will be taken for the improvement of the business of agriculture in Ogle County.

Grade School League Teams Meet Tomorrow

The Grade School Base Ball League teams of the city have been practicing hard and tomorrow's games in the league are sure to hold some surprises for the spectators.

South Central will meet St. Mary's at the Kiwanis Playgrounds and North Central will play E. C. Smith at Assembly Park. These games will be called at 4:15 and will be umpired by business men in the city.

This start to supervision of play in the city playgrounds is a step in the right direction, for the city has some beautiful parks and splendid equipment if only they can be used with proper supervision. The local "Y" in its search for a Physical Director, is endeavoring to secure one who has had experience in supervision of playgrounds, for the Board of Directors of the Association feels that as this is a part of the recreation program of the city that is at the present time being neglected.

Tennis Courts Will be Ready for Play Shortly

Work is now going ahead on the Y. M. C. A. Tennis Club courts and it is expected that they will be ready for play within the next couple of days.

Already more members have signed up for membership in the club than the whole membership of last year and indications show that as soon as the courts are ready a number of others will join. It is hoped that the membership will not have to be limited and for this reason any person intending to join is urged to see any of the following as soon as possible, B. J. Frazer, President; Miss Dorothy Palmer, Secretary or apply at the office of the Y. M. C. A.

DIXON HIGH WON DUAL MEET WITH POLO YESTERDAY

Polo, However, Promises Good Athletics in Future Events

Dixon high school athletes piled up a strong lead in the dual track and field meet held at the north side athletic field yesterday afternoon between the high schools of Dixon and Polo. The latter school sent a delegation of eager and consistent contestants to Dixon, the faculty of the school accompanying them. The Polo school has but recently entered the field of athletics and Superintendent H. K. Bauerlein with his assistants have developed some very promising material which promises to make Polo a strong contender for Rock River Valley conference honors within a few years.

Coach Eades of the Sterling high school officiated as referee and starter. A feature of the meet was an exhibition in which Oliver M. Rogers, North Western foot ball star and I. B. Potter, Illinois college track and field luminary, contested for the shot put. The contest was called after several attempts, which resulted in a tie.

The Dixon athletes piled up a score of 89 points to Polo's 37 during the afternoon, the result of the meet being second; Schryver, Polo, third. Time as follows:

SPORT BRIEFS

The greatest spring football training season in recent years at Minnesota will end Friday when Coach Spears sends two teams of varsity players into a regulation game.

The Kentucky Derby is but two days off and the carefree happiness of Derby Day has descended upon Louisville. Fifteen or more thoroughbred horses, the best in the country, are at the track for the classic. Pompey and Display, Bubbling Over and Bag Embassage, Rhinoceros and Blondin are ready for the test. Others may be good enough for their owners to pay $500 just to start them in the $50,000 race.

Members of the American Walker Cup golf team will work hard from now on to lose their sea legs. The players rested today after two rounds of play yesterday at Walton Heath.

Promoter Tex Rickard has secured the signature of Young Stribling to defend the light heavyweight title under his management during the outdoor season in the event that Stribling wrests the crown from Paul Berlach, June 10. Stribling will be called upon to dispose of the rugged Johnny Risko tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden. He holds one victory over Risko.

A new unofficial record for bait casting has been set by Howard Chatt of the Illinois Casting Club. He ran up

Sidelights

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Manager Bucky Harris led the attack against Tom Zachary, his former pitcher now with the Browns, by cracking out four hits and the Senators copped for the veteran Walter Johnson, making it his fifth win in a row and his sixth for the season.

Babe Ruth failed to get a blow against the Indians while his teammates collected 13.

Haney, Rigney and Flagstead, former Tigers, got their revenge against their former teammates by smashing out a victory for the Red Sox.

The Pirates' batting rampage enabled Lee Meadows to register his fourth consecutive victory.

Douglas McWeeney, former Pacific Coast Leaguer, has developed into a great pitcher with the Robins. In shutting out the Cubs Doug hung up a record of 19 innings of shutout ball.

Pete Donohue of the Reds let the Braves down with three hits two of which were collected by Manager Bancroft.

Illinois Now Tied With Michigan Team

Chicago, May 13—(AP)—Big Ten baseball teams are idle today after a day's tie which saw Illinois go back into the tie with Michigan for the lead in the conference race and, by the same victory, eliminate Purdue as an immediate threat. The Illini yesterday snowed Purdue under 11-2 while Chicago shut out Northwestern 7-0.

All but two of the teams will go into action again Saturday with the Illinois-Michigan battle for the lead the feature game of the day.

HEALO! HEALO! HEALO!

A really good foot powder.

RACES IN MAJOR LEAGUES CONTINUE TO BE HOT FIGHTS

Leaders Find Themselves Hotly Pressed for Positions

New York teams clung to the major league baseball mast head today, challenged by other teams east and west.

The Yankees traveled ten innings yesterday to beat Cleveland 6-5, only to find Washington close on their heels in second place today. The Brooklyn Robins found their position at the National peak precarious after subduing the Chicago Cubs uprising, for Cincinnati in second place loomed threateningly.

Good pitching figured in the push of the new challengers. Walter Johnson scored his fifth consecutive triumph for Washington at the expense of St. Louis 7-4.

Three hits constituted the limit of Boston's batting liberties with the curves of Donohue of Cincinnati.

Brilliant pitching by McWeeney kept the Robins at the peak of the senior loop. He kept eight Cub hits scattered for a 2-0 victory. Urban Shockley went the route for the Yanks but owed his 6-5 triumph to heavy hitting by teammates and a fumble in the 10th inning which sent across the winning tally.

Near the foot of the first division rumbling of trouble for the leaders came from the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Philadelphia Athletics. Although the White Sox pushed Mack's men to ten innings Simmons timely double gave Philadelphia its ninth straight victory at 4-3, marking the longest winning streak of the year.

The Corsairs beat the Phillies 14-3 but the Giants breaking a long losing streak with a 2-1 victory over the Cardinals refused to yield their seat on the fourth run.

Wiltz, Boston Red Sox pitching find, turned back the Detroit Tigers by 4-2 with the help of 14 safeties.

Climbs From Racing Boat Into Speeding Plane

Mabel Cody, stunt aviatrix and niece of Buffalo Bill, pulls a new thriller for the edification of people at St. Augustine, Fla. Stepping from the deck of Miss Tampa gold cup racer, she seized a rope ladder dangling from an airplane overhead and climbed into the cockpit above. These three photos tell the story graphically.

Setting the Condor's Egg

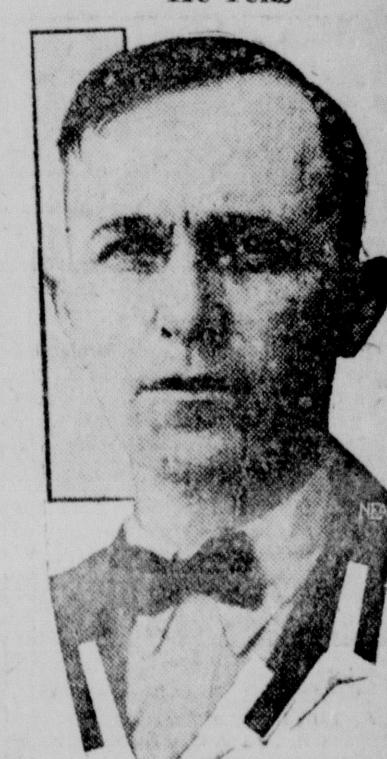

This condor's egg, a rare specimen, valued at $750, laid at the Washington zoo, is being set to hatch in an incubator. The hen condor has laid only five eggs in 20 years, and broke the other four in the nest. R. Lambert, park keeper, is shown wondering if science will succeed where nature failed.

The Latest Thing in Shoulders

Shoulder cats are the latest fad in Los Angeles. The cat bounces around and arches his back every time the wearer takes a step on the dance floor. Kathryn Stanley thinks it's quite nifty.

Dorothy Schurman to Marry

J. Pat Murphy, (above) ex-bartender, ex-preacher, and now postmaster of Ep., Ky., testifies before the senate's prohibition committee.

"I hate to say this, but Judge Herndon in 1919 was so drunk that he was unable to walk up and down the aisles of the court. Now he is one of our most upstanding citizens."

Under Fire

Commissioner Frederick A. Fenning (above) of the District of Columbia is accused of misconduct in office by Representative Blanton of Texas, who has demanded his impeachment. Fenning has announced that he will welcome a full investigation of his official acts.

"Why Girls Go Back Home" with Patsy Ruth Miller is a Warner production from this novel.

SYNOPSIS
Marie Downey, innocently involved in scandal by Clifford Dudley, an actor, climbs to stardom because of the notoriety. John, a former sweetheart, writes that he believes in her, wants to marry her. Marie, tasting success, puts him off. For three years she lives with her chum Sally, a gay life. She invites Clifford to her birthday party and revenges herself by "running him ragged" in front of the guests. John, an unannounced visitor, is mistaken for a beggar by the butler.

"Oh, but—Clifford—"

And now, here he was, and no jackass in livery was going to keep him from a sight of her. Nor could she say she was not at home. He saw the lighted windows and heard the murmurings and shrieks of exhilarated voices with a panting heart. Somewhere in that combined noise was her voice.

The butler, who had run down a flight of steps, half-opened the service door, grabbed John by the arm and pulled him through into a small hall from which the kitchen gave.

"Go into the kitchen, you, if you want something to eat." "Say—I don't—" began John pulling back his arm violently.

The outside bell rang again, and the butler, muttering, hurried back up the stairs.

"You'll get no money, here," he called back firmly to John.

Non-repeatable words were all that John could think of in answer. It was no good calling them at the butler's back, so he stood silently, sick with himself for having got into such a muddle, and half resolved to go back through the service door. But why, when he had come such a way? And now, at least, he was inside her house. He stood and waited for about five minutes, but it seemed interminable. The door between upstairs and down was half open, and he could hear sounds of laughter and mirth. He climbed the small flight of steps cautiously and inserted himself through the half open door. It opened into the outer lobby and a small waiting room, now hung with men's coats and hats. Opening from the lobby on the other side was a series of closed doors through which John heard the party at its frantic height. Right in front of him rose the gleaming rails of the staircase.

As John stood undecided, he saw the handle of the living room door turn, as if someone were about to open it. Obeying the impulse of the fugitive, he fled up the shallow stairs and before the living room door had opened, he had gained the top.

The landing, partly hidden from the front door, had low-cushioned window seats on either side of French windows, now open to the spring air. Part of the landing had been curtained off to form a tiny alcove. The curtains were drawn about it now. Above the landing, after another small flight of stairs, were ranged closed doors. John took his surroundings in at a glance, for footsteps were coming up the stairs. Perceiving the dimness of a balcony through the French windows of the landing, he stepped through instinctively.

It was a wide balcony, almost like another long, low room, with an awninged top, and the sky crept in at the sides, over the railing of plants which fenced it in. It had been built curiously and specially for a writer who wanted an outdoor workroom, but John did not know this. Another French window led into the curtained alcove. This tiny private space lay in semi-darkness. John could just see two chairs, set as for a tête-à-tête by the window. He hovered about the second window because it was comparatively dark. The balcony, too, had only the light from the hall and the dim light on the landing.

This part of Marie's house gave John a feeling of peace. There

ON the way he called loudly for the maid.

He laid Audrey on her bed and knelt beside her. Her sob had resolved themselves into a steady, rhythmic clicking, broken by short, disconnected phrases. Her eyelids were growing heavy and her eyes dull.

When the maid came with the tiny red night light and lay down on the couch by the girl's bed, hoping to bring deeper rest to her patient by perfect darkness and quiet Morton still sat rigid in the little chair.

Audrey slept heavily throughout the night. Only once or twice, when she made a little uneasy moaning sound and stirred in the bed, did Morton leave his post.

The doctor looked at him shrewdly as they went into the drawing room. "What is your relationship to this young woman, sir?"

"I adopted her when she was a little child," said Morton. "What is wrong with her? She hasn't had any physical illness."

"No," the doctor answered. "It's purely nervous—a complete collapse. Now tell me all about her recent life."

"She is the lady," asked Morton. "Who is the boy? I have seen him here often. He is the maid's son."

Good Work Wins

The following statement appeared in an article in the Republican of Galena, Kansas, for March 26, 1926:

"The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is the greatest commercial organization in the United States and its efforts and business penetrate the known world. Its policy toward employees may well be used as the criterion for all business. It is the most liberal that has been established. Every employee has that golden opportunity to prove his worth and his reward is in his own grasp."

It is natural that this policy should meet the approval of all true Americans for it is essentially democratic in character. But such unsolicited praise is very gratifying to the management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes in Fairness, Justice and Equity, and it believes in giving all its employees equal chances to make good.

In the huge organization of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) every employee, no matter what his task, is recognized as an individual, with rights equal to those of any other man. Good work, honest effort, and ability are quickly observed and appreciated. Promotions reward the deserving, and many of the executives of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) today first entered the Company in a humble capacity. Success in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) does not lean upon superficial props. It is built upon a solid base of actual worth. Golden opportunities for advancement are not shaken like apples from a tree, but earned by steady climbing on the ladder of earnest work.

This democratic policy has resulted in an organization of loyal, interested men and women who work with enthusiasm, knowing that every effort is appreciated.

The close cooperation of its employees makes possible, to a large degree, the comprehensive service the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is able to render the thirty million people of the Middle West.

Every man in the organization is not only interested in his task, but anxious to do it better—and you sense this enthusiasm at every Standard Oil Company (Indiana) Service Station. It is this wonderful spirit prevailing throughout the organization that has made it possible for the Company to take its place among the foremost Service organizations of America.
